

From broadcast to podcast: Complete audio management and maximization.

It's like podcasting on steroids.

With POST, easily manage your original podcasts and give your on-air content a life after live, making it shareable, stackable, and available on-demand.

Create once, publish anywhere.

POST makes it simple to set up dozens of publishing destinations so you can choose the best ones for the different types of content you create.

Automatically turn your broadcast into a podcast.

POST for TV automatically ingests newscast audio and replaces your commercials with Futuri Ad Network ad calls.

Your podcast is packaged with your station branding and metadata, including a customized and auto-generated description.

Publish only your A-Block or your entire newscast automatically – no producer required.

Grow your audience using the audio of the content you're already creating, across every digital, social, and podcast platform.